

West End star hosts talent show finale at holiday park

He's starred in an array of successful West End shows, from Summer Holiday to Grease.

But Darren Day started his showbiz career in humble beginnings on Opportunity Knocks, a talent show that rivalled Britain's Got Talent in its day.

So the singer and actor will be the perfect host for Bunn Leisure's Got Talent competition, a contest aimed at finding the most talented guests at the huge family holiday park.

After weeks of heats, Darren will be heading to the Selsey resort on October 1 to host the grand finale of the contest.

He will be presenting the £1,000 cash prize fund to a 2500-capacity audience at Bunn Leisure's entertainment venue, The Embassy.

Not only will Darren be visiting Bunn Leisure, but throughout 2016, he has been showcasing his vocal impersonations and singing on a UK and international tour of 'Darren Day in Concert'.

The 48-year-old dad-of-three recently released a new album of his musical theatre favourites, This is the Moment.

Adrian Douthwaite, entertainments manager, was excited to welcome the entertainer, whose TV accolades include I'm a Celebrity...Get Me Out of Here and Hollyoaks.

He said: 'Darren Day has been in show business for more than 30 years and actually started his career working at a holiday park.'

"He's the ideal host for our talent competition and we look forward to welcoming Darren to Bunn Leisure."

Last year, the popular onsite talent competition saw more than 500 acts audition over the summer period and this year the park is expecting it to be even busier – after the success of last year's appearance by Sam Bailey.

Each of the live heat winners will be given a free weekend break for up to four people over the grand final weekend.

Bunn Leisure is an award-winning holiday park which has won top prizes in Tourism South East's Beautiful South Awards for Excellence for four years running.
