He's back! Grammy award-winning soulster Billy Ocean to perform at Bunn Leisure

The legendary singer, who had famous hits such as Caribbean Queen and When the Going Gets Tough, is returning after a smash-hit performance last year to wow the audience at Bunn Leisure's 2,000-capacity Embassy Club.

The singer, who won a Grammy for best male R&B vocal performance for his hit, Caribbean Queen, is one of Bunn Leisure's most popular acts and will perform this year on June 30.

But that's no surprise considering his worldwide record sales have topped 30 million, including five gold and platinum selling albums and a MOBO Lifetime Achievement Award for songs including Get Outta My Dreams, Get Into My Car. He's even rocked up to support a Macmillian Cake Sale during one of his Bunn Leisure appearances, helping raise more than £10,000 for the charity.

All entertainment is free for guests at Bunn Leisure so his return is the perfect excuse for a party weekend with friends or family. A three-night break costs from just £297 for up to six people, or you could even pitch a tent from as little as £30 a night, for up to four people, giving you free access to an amazing range of kids' clubs and the 'Oasis' Leisure complex with waterslides, a lazy river and a splash fountain.
