Pop star Gareth Gates heads 2018 entertainment line-up at Bunn Leisure

Pop sensation Gareth Gates has been named as one of the top acts in West Sussex holiday park Bunn Leisure's 2018 entertainment line-up.

It's been 16 years since Gareth Gates won the hearts of the nation on the UK's first Pop Idol, wowing the judges and finishing a close runner-up to Will Young.

Since then, the Bradford-born star has carved out a hugely successful career, selling over 3.5 million records worldwide, with four UK No1 singles. He's starred in West End musicals, come fourth in Dancing On Ice, made a TV documentary about the struggle faced by people who stammer – and has recently launched the world's first range of coconut teas!

On May 12 this year, the 33-year-old singer will be heading to the south coast holiday park to perform an eclectic mix of pop classics including Spirit In The Sky, Summer of 69, and Suspicious Minds.

Gareth Gates first rose to fame on Pop Idol, when he auditioned with Flying Without Wings and amazed the judges with his perfect vocals – even more incredible when they realised the 18-year-old had a severe stammer. After the final, he was signed up by Simon Cowell to the BMG Label, and went on to have a string of hits that included Unchained Melody, which was the second best-selling single of the 'Noughties'.

As well as singing, Gareth has a huge passion for theatre and has taken starring roles in Joseph, Les Miserables and Footloose.

To join Gareth for a fabulous night at The Embassy, just book a break at Bunn Leisure over May 12 – and all entertainment is free. A three-night break starts from only £197.10 for up to six people, or you could even pitch a tent for as little as £20 per night giving you free access to an amazing range of kids' activities and the Oasis Leisure Centre.
